EXPERIENCED MEMBERS NEEDED

The Nomination committee is searching for a few volunteers for various bridge/leadership positions. Sharing education, social and community activities is rewarding. Without volunteers for the coming year(s) this organization will fold. Please let anyone on the committee know of your interest. We can fill you in on specific positions related to your skills and interest. No one need do it all.

COMMANDER
Wanda Burson, S

I want to echo Commander Burson's request for volunteers to help with our squadron activities. I've been in ABC-MI for about five years; each year both my husband and I have volunteered for various club functions. We have made many friends and shared similar interests and experiences with many of you. Now is the time for others to step up and share the responsibility of keeping our club afloat. The same group of people have kept the squadron functioning since we have been members. It would be great to see new members step up and take on leadership roles so that we can insure the ABC-MI keeps moving forward.

Here we are at the beginning of Summer. This has been an exceedingly long time of isolation and idleness. We are now free to move about, go places and just go about our business, if we have had our vaccinations. So, I am certain connecting with family and travel is in the future for most of you.

Before we move on to more memories and fun and even more fun on the water with friends, I want to thank everyone who pushed through and kept our wonderful boating organization moving ahead in a positive manner. We really owe each of you a huge Thank You. Now that we are past the worst of it, but always mindful of staying safe, we need others to step up and become the oil for our machine. We always need volunteers and with the Wine & Hors d'Oeuvres Party back on the calendar we are going to need everyone to make that a success. There are other jobs that need to be filled also.

SUNSHINE NEWS

Please keep Katy Hart in your thoughts and prayers as she deals with an illness. Congratulations to Joey Puell who is graduating from Marco Island Academy in June.

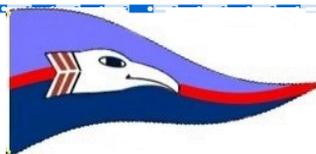

Please let me know of anyone who is sick, injured or deceased. I will send a card in the name of the squadron.

Many jobs that make this organization run smoothly are mostly behind the scenes but happen to be the most important. Volunteering is the best way to get to know everyone. So, I invite all our new members to step up and join us in making America's Boating Club – Marco Island the absolute best it can be.

If you are willing to be more involved just ask one of the Bridge members and they will point you in the right direction and get you all set.

Wishing all of you warm breezes, calm waters and soft nights.

EXECUTIVE OFFICER
D/Lt/C Gene Burson, JN

Some of the Executive Departments will be going into a form of hibernation for the summer months. This includes the Vessel Safety Check examiners, the Ways and Means Committee, and Co-op Charting volunteers.

Co-op Charting volunteers have completed their spring survey of the Aids-to-Navigation (AToNs) and will return next fall/winter to revisit the AToNs to report on all in need of repair, missing, or misplaced in the waters surrounding Marco Island.

Vessel Safety Check examiners have completed about as many safety checks as can be expected during the springtime while the snowbirds are still here, and examiners have not left on vacations. They will be available again as early as next fall to continue their mission, but the big rush will begin again in January of 2022.

The Ways and Means Committee has concluded a campaign for additional donations to the Club because of our inability to conduct a fundraiser earlier this year. I will talk more about our fundraiser later in this article.

I want to thank Linette Chaney for volunteering to manage the Ship's Store. Linette and Dave are leaving for the north very soon but will return in the fall to provide members with shirts, sweatshirts, burgees, and other Club clothing. In the meantime, Peggy and Ted Reiss will continue to have the Ship's Store articles available through the summer.

Marketing/Communications Committee Chair, Tom Morr, has drafted a letter to be endorsed by all boating organizations on Marco Island and sent to the City and County Waterways Departments. Other Committee members are now researching professional websites to provide Tom with detail statistics to fill in the blanks in the letter. Our goal with the letter is to provide definitive data to justify the government departments to budget more money and manpower to the work needed to maintain safe waterways around Marco Island.

EDUCATIONAL OFFICER

P/D/C Ted Reiss, SN-CN

Our 2020-2021 winter education schedule is completed. We held 4 ABC courses, two Advanced Piloting, one Piloting and one Boat Handling. Congratulations to all students and instructors. A proposed Fall/Winter schedule will appear in the August time frame. Let me know of your interests.

An ongoing activity is the Jump Start program where you can learn specific on-the-water (OTW) skills. We offer this free instruction to members only. Contact me to discuss details of your needs.

One OTW skill was requested to help with the fun activity of anchoring which leads to the fun activities of eating, swimming, partying sunning, etc.. We can start this program now. Dave Randall and I are putting our thoughts together on how to combine classroom materials/videos with OTW. Our idea is to coach you on your boat on the techniques of setting and retrieving an anchor. Please contact me so we can set up a class or an individual OTW session. Who else would like to be a coach? Let me know if you prefer single engine, dual engine, inboard, outboard, I/O or some combination. I know many of you already have the skills! Helping one another is part of our organization.

Education is a main portion of our volunteer club. You may have joined because of a need to learn more about boating safety and skills. Are you ready to share what you learned with others? I hope some of you are. We need instructors for the Fall/Winter to expand our course/seminar offerings. We have lesson plans and subject presentations all ready for use. Even an hour or two is helpful. Please contact me and we can discuss.

Go boating, keep learning and be safe.

Florida Fish & Wildlife Conservation Commission Releases

Florida's 2020 Recreational Boating Statistics

By D/Lt/C Gene Burson, JN

Nearly 50,000 new Florida boaters took to the water in 2020, bringing our recreational vessel totals to more than 985,000-tops in the nation. This was the single largest increase in vessel registration in modern history. Last November I wrote about the surge in boat sales in 2020. While most of the country was shut down, would-be boaters decided to break free of their quarantine, buy a boat, and head out on the water. No masks required. By mid-July, the Coast Guard's Office of Boating Safety was projecting (nationally) a 30% jump in on-the-water incidents, along with a 4% increase in deaths over 2019. In Florida, we saw more than a 23% increase and accidents and a whopping 43.6% increase in fatalities over 2019. 79 Florida boaters lost their lives in 2020.

Personal Watercraft accidents have risen sharply in the past two years, with injuries and fatalities nearly doubling since 2018. As is the case with larger vessels, improper lookouts and operator inexperience were by far the main causes for PWC crashes.

Florida law enforcement issued 16,880 violations in 2020, with the vast majority being safety equipment and lighting infractions. (My organization offers free vessel safety checks. We come right to your boat, and we will ensure that you have all the required safety equipment. Call or email me if you want me to set up an appointment for you.)

Nearly 20,000 more Boater ID cards were issued in 2020 over the previous year, bringing the total issued to 74,376. This dwarfs any prior year increase. 70% were issued to persons born on or after January 1, 1988-the date when new boaters are required to take a certified boating safety class. The rest did the right thing-signed up for a class to improve their boating skills. The sharp increase in the number of younger boaters over previous years is likely the result of working families fleeing the pandemic by boat. And while the increase in boaters taking a boating safety class is quite an achievement for organizations like mine who teach them, the age group who most needs those classes continue to be infrequent visitors to the classroom: many operators involved in accidents and fatalities in 2020 were over 51 years old. And 69% of all operators involved in accidents had never taken a boating class. Sadly, those numbers have held steady over the years. Older boaters tend to think they don't need the class because of all their "experience", but year after year statistics tell a different story: most boaters involved in accidents and fatalities (64.5% in 2020) had logged over 100 hours of boating experience.

You can't blame young boaters for the uptick in boating incidents. You can't blame visitors (73% of operators involved in accidents were Florida residents), and you can't completely blame the drinkers: while alcohol is involved in 23% or 31 of the 836 accidents in 2020, there's also this: 240 accidents-the highest percentage of all accidents by far-were caused by the simple failure to keep a proper lookout or pay attention to your surroundings. Keeping a "seaman's eye" when you are on a boat doesn't come naturally-it has to be taught to you. In a classroom. During a safe boating class. And here's one more thing: 88% of those who lost their lives in 2020 were not wearing a PFD (personal flotation device), even though most of them were good swimmers. Swimming ability will rarely save your life if you are involved in a serious accident. You need to wear a PFD.

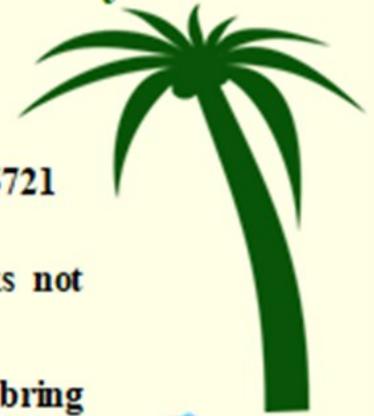

Senior officer Adam Brown is the Public Information Officer for FWC in our area. He had this to say about the recently released report: "This past year brought an increase in boating activity in Florida. With social distancing in place throughout the country, boating, fishing, and paddle sports became even more popular than before. New water enthusiasts don't always have the knowledge, experience and education needed to safely navigate Florida's waters, thereby significantly increasing boating accidents and fatalities. 2020 saw the highest number of boating fatalities on record for the state of Florida. Operator inattention and inexperience continue to be the leading cause of these incidents. The FWC strongly encourages all boaters to seek formal boating education for the sake of themselves, their passengers, and their fellow mariners. For more information about boating safety, please visit <https://myfwc.com/boating/safety-education/>."

While it is true that Florida has the most boats, we annually incur far more than our share of accidents and deaths. Many factors are involved: our often shallow and complicated waterways, the high number of channel markers and other aids to navigation (ATONS) here, and the 12 months per year boating season come to mind. But it's clear that our waterways are more lethal than anywhere else in the country. Be careful out there, wear your PFD, and always be vigilant on the water. Let's bring the numbers down in 2021.

EXECUTIVE OFFICER REPORT

It's back – the Wine & Hors d'Oeuvres Party.

I made this announcement in last month's Eagle's Eye. I also know that we have 27 new members that have not had the opportunity to participate in this fun event.

The Party is for our community supporters and guests to enjoy wine and hors d'oeuvres while they purchase changes to win a 50/50 drawing, raffle prizes, a door prize and place silent auction bids on donated items from businesses or individuals.

The Party is our only fundraiser of the year and we want every member to volunteer by visiting a few businesses to encourage them to donate product, services, or cash. In addition to visitations to businesses, members will be called upon to purchase 4 tickets to the event, make 30 servings of homemade hors d'oeuvres, and work the event in the capacity of ticket sellers (50/50 or Raffle), servers, or behind the Silent Auction tables.

I will be reporting on the Party in the following issues of the Eagle's eye as we get closer to the date.

I want to thank all members who join this organization to volunteer to do all they can to further our mission of safe boating through educational classes, civic involvement, and social networking.

XO Gene Burson, JN

CONGRATULATIONS GRADUATE, JOEY PUELL!

Many of our members may not know our youngest America's Boating Club—Marco Island member, Joey Puell. I first met Joey and his parents, Dr. Jose and Dr. Rebecca Puell, when we were all in the ABC course in 2016. At that time Joey was a 7th grader at Marco Island Middle School. I was struck at that time with what a mature, intelligent young man he was. I later got to know him better when I worked with him on his Eagle Scout Project. Joey was instrumental in planning our Wear It Event in November 2019 as part of his Eagle Scout Project. He also helped the club set up its own Facebook page. Fast forward five years and now Joey is graduating from Marco Island Academy and heading off to college the University of Florida later this summer. Joey will be recognized at the Eagle Scout Court of Honor on June 8th and many of our squadron leadership will be attending. I sat down with Joey recently to talk with him about his Eagle Scout project, his boating experiences and his college plans.

1) What got you interested in safe boating?

During the summer of 5th grade I attended a Boy Scout Water Sports Day. I was injured by the propeller when I was getting off boat to tube. My recovery was very long and it made me more aware of the importance of boating safety. My parents and I wanted to learn how to boat safely and how to properly maintain a boat so that's why we got involved with the Power Squadron.

2) How did you come up with the idea for your Eagle Scout project?

I saw that the club was interested in having more of an on-line presence so I had an idea to develop a Facebook page where we could highlight our activities. Gene Burson, who was commander at the time, mentioned to me the Wear It Campaign for safe boating so I worked with the different boating organizations on Marco Island to set up the event in November 2019.

3) What type of boating activities have you been involved with while in high school?

I've been very involved with the Sailing Association of Marco Island. I participate on a sailing team from the yacht club and we participate in sailing races, drills, and regattas. During the summer I volunteer in the summer sailing program where I help kids learn to sail.

4) I know you are a young man with many talents. What have been your favorite activities while at MIA?

I like to be busy. I've been involved in Key Club and Interact which involves doing a variety of volunteer events. I was in the Thespian society and was involved in several plays during high school. I was also in student government, the culinary club, the Japanese club, as well as other after school activities. I've been in the Boy Scouts since kindergarten and now that I'll be earning Eagle Scout I've helped out as an assistant patrol leader.

5) What do you look forward to now that you are heading off to the University of Florida?

I'm excited to be starting summer classes at the end of June. I've always loved school so I am excited about the new opportunities that I'll have to take courses I'm interested in. I'd like to do research while I'm an undergraduate. I'm also looking forward to all the extra-curricular activities like kayaking and sailing as well as other clubs. I'll be pursuing a pre med curriculum and will probably major in either biology or microbiology. I'm hoping to be admitted to a special medical honors program that will shorten the time between starting undergraduate classes and finishing medical school to seven years. My goal is to become a physician once all my schooling is complete; neuroscience is an area that I've considered as far as a specialty.

6) What will you miss about Marco Island?

I'll miss my small school and knowing all my classmates. I'll also miss the beach, but I'm a very adaptable person so I'm confident that I'll have lots of opportunities while at the University of Florida.

I hope all our squadron members will wish Joey all the best as he pursues his college education.

WHITEHORSE KEY TRIP MAY 13

By D/Lt/C Andy Battaglia, SN

We had a fantastic day weather wise to head to Whitehorse Key... smooth Gulf and enough clouds to keep it from being too hot. Andy brought muscle to put up her tent; her grandson Casey and his friend Jake from Ohio joined our group. Four boats participated: Kathleen Reynolds on Bottom Line with Marilyn as her crew; Steve & Julie Riley on Emma G; Andy Battaglia at the helm on the "Andy B" with crew of Casey and Jake; and our cruise leaders were Ted and Peggy Reiss aboard the Just Us. We made a nice circle in the shade under the tent, enjoyed conversation, passed chips, cookies and ate our lunches. Ted, Casey and Jake played horseshoes while Andy and Peggy enjoyed the refreshing water of the Gulf. Everyone praised what a beautiful day and how great it was to be out again on the water. Finally, back to normal!
